Any group that arranges to use the TNSC must agree to the following conditions:

1. All participants must complete a Day Use registration form, unless a participant is a TNSC member (or large groups may provide a list of all individuals attending).
2. The contact person takes responsibility for ensuring
  - that the posted skiing etiquette is respected by all participants
  - that the ski equipment is handled appropriately
  - that any damage to ski equipment is reported to the TNSC contact person
  - that the Chalet is left in the original condition or better in terms of cleanliness, including the kitchen, washrooms and change rooms
  - that the neighbourhood is not disturbed by inappropriate or excessively loud activities
  - that any accident that may occur during the group use is reported immediately as discussed at the time of booking

The TNSC, Cross Country Canada, or Canadian Snowsports Association shall not be held responsible for bodily injuries, damage, loss or theft of personal belongings or equipment during the use of its facilities. The user(s) agree to indemnify and hold harmless the TNSC, Cross Country Canada, Canadian Snowsports Association, and all private land owners within TNSC's trail system (including Larry Conroy, Daryl Dufresne, and Pierre Dupuis) for any cause of action that should arise during the time the user(s) is in possession of the facilities.
